

Jacques deReland, his wife, Monique, and daughters Corinne and Mireille, in the Northport manse.

Minister recalls Christmases in native island of Mauritius

Jacques de Reland, United Church Minister for Demorestville and Mountain View in Prince Edward County, is a long way from home.

He was born on the Isle of Mauritius, on the south-east coast of Africa. 'A pearl in the Indian Ocean' is the way he describes his home land. 'It's a nice island and I'm proud of it,' he said.

It never snows there and, when he arrived in Canada for his first posting, in Val d'Or, up in northwestern Quebec, it was all white with snow. 'I wondered if it was the end of the world,' he said.

The Isle of Mauritius was a French colony at one time until the English took possession. It is now an independent island with a governor general. Most of the people speak French... some Parisian and some Creole... but the children learn English at school.

Jacques studied at a university in France, receiving a licence in theology, and became part time assistant minister in the Swiss Reform Church in London, England.

'That's where I met my wife,' he said.

Monique de Reland also has French for her mother tongue. She grew up in Geneva.

What prompted them to come to Canada?

'I read a French church newspaper and saw that they were looking for a French minister in Quebec, so I applied,' he said.

He didn't hear directly from his application but, a little later, a man from the United Church in Toronto went to London and discussed with him the idea of coming to Canada.

'I said yes, but I thought it was to a French church and was surprised, later, to find out it was an English church,' he said. 'I had never dealt with an English service.'

The de Relands and their two daughters, Corinne, now 7 and Mireille, 4, arrived in Val d'Or in November of 1974. He had three churches to look after.

'It was a big challenge dealing with English. I had to translate everything,' he said. 'I got a little discouraged after two or three months and said to Monique that perhaps we should go back.'

'But there was a woman who was a big help to me. During the service, she would write down all the words I didn't pronounce right and have me practice them later.'

He was ordained in the United Church in Timmins in 1975.

The deRelands have been living in the United Church manse in Northport for the past 17 months.

They say they have found people in the county a bit reserved, in comparison with the people they met in the Quebec mining communities, but 'If we need help, they are right there.'

Sitting in the manse living room, with his Canadian Christmas tree behind him, Jacques recalled Christmas at home when he was a little boy.

'At Christmas there, the religious aspect is the most important part,' he said. 'The main religion is Christianity. There are some Moslems and Buddhists and a lot of Catholics. It is an extremely religious country.'

'We didn't open our Christmas presents until we went to church. It was an obligation. The children were not allowed to open their father read something from the Bible before we opened the gifts.'

'We had an evergreen tree with real candles and we'd all go around the tree and sing... what is it in English, Monique?' He hummed a few bars to the tune of 'Oh Christmas Tree'.

Monique also remembers real candles on her tree in Geneva.

'Christmas is not a time when I am homesick,' she said. 'I would like to be near my mother but I like Canada.'

Both are glad to be in Northport but do feel a little far away from everything. 'We have been most of our lives in big cities,' they said.

Sow unit 'best in the world'

'It is common knowledge that the poultry industry has been transformed by application of modern methods and the swine industry will develop along similar lines,' said Dr. George Clayton at the opening of Hay Bay Farm's third 250 sow unit in South Fredericksburgh, recently.

A PhD of Edinburgh University and an acknowledged international expert in animal genetics, he discussed the company's breeding program which he supervises.

Its goal was the production of lean meat at lowest cost and to achieve it fertile mothers producing large litters were necessary. 'The pigs must live, grow fast and convert food efficiently into meat, not fat,' he said.

'Standards of herd management, hygiene, husbandry, nutrition and fiscal control in the Ontario swine industry have improved steadily, but much remains to be done,' he said. 'The best available stock has to be used. It has to be the right breed with the right strains. The obvious breeds for the North American market are Yorkshire and Landrace. From a total economic point of view, these two breeds will outperform any other and there are some good strains among them still obtainable,' he said.

'The reason for two breeds rather than one is important. Sows resulting from crossing these two breeds show heterosis for fecundity. Cross bred

Local by-law can control operation of snowmobiles

The Scanner got a letter to the editor this week from a reader who was somewhat upset about the careless way some snowmobilers handle their machines, particularly their speed on roads in built-up areas.

And the writer wanted to know whether there was anything that could be done about it. There is.

Ontario has laws governing the operation of motorized snow vehicles, but a lot is left to the discretion of the local municipality.

A municipality, that has problems with snowmobilers can pass by-laws regulating governing or prohibiting the operation of snowmobiles anywhere within their boundaries, on or off the highway.

The Ontario law is specific about what you can and can't do on King's Highways or secondary highways. There you can't drive a snowmobile on the serviced part of the road, unless you are crossing the road at a 90-degree angle. To drive along the road, you must stay between the shoulder and the adjoining property fence.

County roads, like the ones going through small hamlets or villages, are different. Unless prohibited by local by-laws, snowmobiles may be driven right down the roadway, like any other vehicle.

There are laws governing the speed, though... and they apply on all roads. You may not drive a snowmobile faster than 20 km/h on a road where the speed limit for cars is 50 km/h or less. Where the speed limit is more than 50 km/h for cars, snowmobiles are restricted to 50 km/h.

Shawn Woodcock and Krista and Cinday Marlowe were among the excited youngsters who attended the pre-Christmas party at Deseronto's Public Library.

Heard the other day that there's been a whole mess of these here UFO's seen down to Australia. Seems there were so many sightings that they sent out a plane and a TV crew to try to get some pictures. Well, the TV crew seen this thing flying up in the sky and filmed it, but the plane didn't see nothing.

Always been interested in these things. Ain't never seen one myself, but I keep looking out for 'em. I reckon these here extra terrestrials might be just what we need for the government. They'd maybe see things clearer, looking from the outside, so's to speak.

I've even heard that some folks reckon that they're here already, in disguise, mixing with people and sort of spying on us. Now I seen several poor imitations of human beings over the holidays, specially on New Year's day. Look as if their makers didn't quite get the colour right. Sort of red around the eyes and a touch green in the face.

Come to think on it, there was some around on New Year's Eve too, but they had problems with the walking more'n the colouring.

Anyways, I reckon that it might live things up a bit if'n some real extra terrestrials turned up. Their ain't nothing like real opposition to make folks pull together. Seems to me that the fastest way to stop all the squabbling going on in the world, is to bring in some outsiders - like in a family quarrel where the relations can say just what they want about each other, but God help any outsider who tries it.

Sure would be interesting, wouldn't it?

EDITORIAL

The Canada Safety Council is pretty good at forecasts...based on experiences in past years.

Previous to the Christmas season, the council predicted 49 traffic deaths across Canada from 6 p.m. Friday, Dec. 29, to midnight of Boxing Day. The council was only out by two. Forty-seven traffic deaths were actually reported during the 102-hour period.

There were other accidental deaths too, of course. Twenty-three people died in fires and seven in snowmobile accidents. Drownings, exposure, accidental shootings, electrocutions, all took their toll too.

The Canada Council has been doing this type of forecasting for some years now...not only ahead of the Christmas season, but in advance of other holidays and special weekends. And, usually, the prediction is just about on target.

How about all of us getting together in a New Year's resolution that we will do everything in our power to prove the Canada Safety Council wrong in its predictions during 1979.

Trying to cut the toll of accidental deaths is a worthy resolution for everybody.

Third sow unit opened at Hay Bay Farms sows will produce on average some two pigs a year more than single bred females and this without sacrifice of any of the other important economic traits. What the breeder has to do is to keep the constituted breeds apart and unrelated in order to gain maximum advantage from the hybrid vigor shown in the first cross.

'In order to establish a broad genetic base founded on high quality stock we are importing high indexing boars from the nucleus herd of Cotswold Limited, a major U.K. pig breeding company that practises one of the most advanced and sophisticated breeding programs in the world. This importation will be large enough to enable us to pursue a self-contained policy.

'The expense of running a modern breed improvement program can only be recouped if sales of breeding stock can be made. On the other hand, producers will only buy if it is profitable for them to do so.

'It is our belief that at Hay Bay we have such stock and the scientific and technical knowledge to meet the future needs of the swine industry,' Dr. Clayton concluded.

The unit, described as the finest in the world was constructed by Frey Bros. of Elmira. Earthworks, ditching and plumbing were carried out by Richmond Ditching of Selby. Electrical installations were by Keyworth Electric of Napanee, and K.G. Johnson Equipment of St. Jacobs, Ont. supplied the specialized equipment.

The opening was attended by about 200 people and included prominent academics and government specialists in the hog industry.

If that old codger on the snowmobile was as smart as the old dog on the road, he'd have enough sense to slow down before someone takes a poke at him.

Snowmobiles are here to stay, so we have to learn to get along with them. But they've got to get along with us too...and there comes a time when our patience wears thin.

There must be something we can do to stop this.

Dear Editor:

I am a former managing editor of the United Church Observer and columnist on the Globe and Mail of Toronto. I am doing research dealing with the arrival in Canada of thousands of orphan children from Britain in the early years of the 1900's. I would be pleased to hear, by letter, from people throughout Canada who came to this country through the various organizations such as Barnardo Homes, Macpherson Homes, the Fairbridge Society and so on.

I would also appreciate letters from persons who worked for any of these organizations (or others like them) or in whose homes any of the children were brought up.

My mailing address is 303 St. Lawrence St., Whitby, Ontario, L1N 1H2. All letters will be gratefully received and acknowledged.

Sincerely,
Kenneth Bagnell

Letters to the Editor

Dear Editor:

We hear a lot about hot-rodding young drivers these days, but here's one for you about a hot-rodding grandfather.

We happen to live in a little hamlet, over in Prince Edward County. We don't have sid ewalks...we're not big enough...so we have to walk along the edge of the road.

Now, we're not out to spoil anyone's fun. We put up with the whine and drone of snowmobiles all winter long. We're not 'agin' them. We know they can be a help in a winter emergency when the roads are blocked.

But that doesn't mean we are in favour of getting knocked down by them...or losing our cats, dogs or kids under their treads.

Anyways, we were out for a walk one day last week and we had our dogs right with us at the side of the road. But an optimistic male dog was crossing the road to satisfy his curiosity just when a snowmobile roared into view. That old dog almost had it. There was no way the snowmobile could have avoided him, at the speed it was going, if he hadn't high tailed it out of the way himself.

We were pretty upset. It could have been a youngster on the road. And we yelled at a neighbour who was shovelling out his driveway. 'Who was that nitwit on the snowmobile?' It was (we won't mention names) grandfather was the reply.

NEW WARDENS

Lennox and Addington County has chosen Reeve James Cuthill of North Fredericksburg Township as it warden, succeeding Ernest J. Marshall, Reeve of Napanee.

Prince Edward County's new warden is Bloomfield Reeve Ben Prinzen, who succeeds North Marysburgh Reeve Jack Wells.

LIBRARY POSTER CONTEST

First place winner in the poster contest held at the Children's section of the Picton Library was Christopher Goodkey, in the Junior division. Sheryl King placed second.

In the senior division, winner was Brian Jarvis, with Simone Theakston in second place.

The contest was held in conjunction with the Canadian Children's Book Festival to promote Canadian books for children.

Judge for the contest was Aleda O'Connor and Mrs. Blanche Hubbs of the Library Board presented the awards.

OLD ORPHANAGE RECALLED

One of our readers brought in a copy of 'Kingston This Week' to show us an article about a former Prince Edward County orphanage.

Kenneth Spafford, in his 'As I Remember' column, brought back memories of the Loyal True Blue Orphanage which was operated by the Orange Lodge on the Glenora Road, back before the 1920's.

'It was located near the road, on a lovely piece of property which sloped gently toward the Bay of Quinte. It was a large frame structure, rectangular in shape, with many windows,' Mr. Spafford said.

He remembers the annual picnics there which a lot of local people, including his family, attended.

The orphanage was later located at Richmond Hill, north of Toronto.

FORMER PRINCIPAL DIES

Charles Sydney Froud, former Napanee District Secondary School principal, and county school superintendent, died suddenly.

Mr. Froud served his entire 35-year teaching career in Napanee.

MORE UNEMPLOYED

About 16% more unemployed job-seekers registered at Canada Employment Centres in Belleville, Trenton and Picton last month that the year before. At the same time, the number of regular job placements made by the three centres dropped.

And that doesn't take into account all the people whose unemployment insurance has run out, or who never had any unemployment insurance because what jobs they managed to find, didn't last the required number of weeks.

It's going to be a long, hard winter for a lot of people.

TEACHER EXCHANGE

According to guidelines set by the Ontario Secondary School Teachers' Federation, two consenting teachers may make arrangements to exchange places for a stated period.

Prince Edward initiated a proposal of the inter-county exchange program for Hastings, Northumberland-Newcastle, Hastings-Prince Edward, and Lennox and Addington Separate School Boards.

Lennox and Addington has put its stamp of approval on the proposal.

CURATORS APPOINTED

Don MacDermaid, currently acting curator at the County Museum in Picton, has been appointed curator.

Marjorie Disette, a former curator of furnishings at Upper Canada Village, has been appointed curator of the Macaulay House.

HAPPENINGS

Early in December the Amateur Choral Group of Shannonville and area were taped at a Loyalist College in Belleville for a Christmas program and one to be shown in January on Cablevue 4. Also, early in December they entertained the residents of Westgate Lodge at their Christmas party. The entertainment at the Christmas party of the Township of Tyendinaga Senior Citizen Club 674 was provided by the group, as was a portion of the program held at Read for the school children.

The Presbyterian Sunday School and congregation held a pot-luck supper and Christmas party on Friday, Dec. 22. Following 6 p.m. supper, Rev. Jones showed films on Christmas and the children sang a few Christmas songs. Later in the evening, Santa Claus arrived with gifts and candy for all the children. On behalf of the church, Mrs. Dorothy McCullough presented Rev. Jones and family with a cheque; a gift from the Sunday school was presented to them by Mrs. Mabel Moore. A lovely evening of friendship was enjoyed by all.

Mrs. Kay Bignell from New Haven, England, is spending a month with her uncle, Mr. Albert Reed and cousins, Mrs. Kay Hood and Mrs. Violet Barbier. Mr. and Mrs. Paul Sevick of Bramalea were holiday guests of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Don MacMillan.

Mrs. Beryl Herman and son, Eric, spent a week in Toronto with her daughter, Wendy Brant and husband, Russell Brant and son, R.J. Guests on New Year's Day were Mr. and Mrs. Urvan Perry and Mrs. George Arthur, and Mr. Russell Parry, Trenton, and Mr. and Mrs. W. Hilde, Deseronto.

On Dec. 14, the ladies of the community Association catered Christmas dinner to the members of Tyendinaga Township Senior Citizens' Club 674 in the centre, Shannonville. Leo Kent, driver for Wager Coach Lines attended and brought greetings from them. Ken Vivian, in the name of the members, presented president Wilfred Sager with a Christmas gift. After a short meeting the Amateur Choral Group entertained with singing and music.

The draw was made of tickets on two quilts and an Afghan. The winner were first, Mrs. B. Smallman, 10 Forest Hill Crescent, Belleville, second Bill Benson, Napanee and third Mrs. D. Patrick Frankford.

IN MEMORIAM

HARMER - In loving memory of my sister Helen DeMille who passed away one year ago, January 8, 1978.

We don't need a special day
To bring you to our mind
For the days we do not think of you
Are very hard to find.

If all the world were ours to give
We'd give it, yes, and more
To see the face of Helen dear
Come smiling at the door.

Always remembered by sister Audrey and brother-in-law, Maurice.

DE MILLE - HARMER - In loving memory of my dear daughter, Helen Bernice who left us so suddenly one year ago, January 8, 1978.

So many precious memories
Sprayed with a million tears,
Wishing God had spared you
For just a few more years.

So many things have happened
Since you were called away,
Things you would have enjoyed
If you had been left to stay

So many things to share with you,
So many things to say,
Things would have been much nicer
If you were with us here today.

We didn't get to say Goodbye
And maybe it's just as well,

For I never could have said Goodbye
To my daughter I loved so well.

Loved, and sadly missed by her mother,
Lena De Mille, and family.

The Council of a Municipality may pass a Restricted Area By-law under Section 35 and Section 35(a) of The Planning Act, R.S.O., 1970 as amended, to restrict the use of land. The purpose of By-law No. 2-78 is to regulate the use of land and the character, location and use of buildings and structures and, furthermore, to prohibit certain uses of land and the erection and use of certain buildings and structures and prohibit or require and regulate the provision, maintenance and use of certain facilities and matters as a condition for the development or redevelopment of lands, buildings or structures within various areas of the Corporation of the Town of Deseronto in accordance with the Official Plan for the Hastings County Planning Area.

Youngsters in grades one and two at Deseronto's Elementary School are pretty excited about their new furniture...they've got their very own desks now.

Previously, they worked at long tables. Why the switch?

'We found that some youngsters can't work well that way. They get distracted and look over to see what answer the person next has put down,' said Principal Muir.

Years ago, all the classrooms had desks but the long tables were introduced at a time when it was thought that young children might do better in a group.

The new desks are moveable and can be put together to form a long 'table', but if there is a child who needs privacy to work, he or she can be isolated.

All the classrooms in the school now have individual desks, except for the kindergarten.

Deseronto's Town Clerk, Carman Milligan, and Blanche Detlor sort the old documents

Deseronto's 'dusty' history

For many years, a great deal of the Deseronto area history, folded and dusty, rested in the main office of the Rathbun Company and, later, in pigeon holes in the vault at the back of Deseronto's Town Hall.

Blanche Detlor, who has been right-hand 'man' at the town hall for many years, has been emptying the pigeon holes, opening the folded papers and sorting the deeds...by-laws...and other legal forms...to make way for new shelving in the vault.

She has found it to be a fascinating...albeit dusty...job.

Among the oldest items are the deeds which go back to the 1840's and involve Indian Land Sales.

One, concerning an Indian Land Sale Grant to George Walker of one-fifth acre, was dated Jan. 20, 1885. It carries Queen Victoria's seal and reports that it was 'the forty-eighth year of our reign'.

It was signed by John Joseph McGee, Esquire, Deputy of 'Our Right Trusty and Entirely Beloved Cousin the Most Honourable Sir Henry Charles Keith Petty-Fitzmaurice, Marquis of Lansdowne, in the County of Somerset, Earl of Wycombe, of Chipping Wycombe, in the County of Bucks, Viscount Calne and Calnestone in the County of Wilts, and Lord Wycombe, Baron of Chipping Wycombe in the County of Bucks, in the peerage of Great Britain; Earl of Kerry and Earl of Shelburne, Viscount Clancourie and Fitzmaurice, Baron of Kerry, Lixnaw and Dunkerron, in the peerage of Ireland, Knight Grand Cross of Our Most Distinguished Order of Saint Michael and Saint George, Governor General of Canada and Vice-Admiral of the same.'

Sidelights on women's property rights also turned up in some of the old deeds. There's an affidavit confirming that a piece of property was sold before there was a wife with rights. It reads: 'I Richard Rayburn of the Town of Deseronto, Conty of Hastings, custom house officer, do solemnly declare that I know Richard Irvine and he was not a married man when he conveyed the above half lot to George E. Clement in the year 1890.' The lot involved was the north half of lot number 30 in block D.

'They asked to measure the lots in chains...about 66 feet long,' Mrs. Detlor said. 'When we put in the sewers in town a lot of discrepancies came to light. We found one house that was six inches over on another lot. Maybe someone walked off the distance, or the chain broke and was put together again losing some length.'

'It took Sam Knapp months to get it all straightened out,' she said.

Blanche has been sorting out the town's by-laws for some time now...correlating them, and putting them into sequence where they can be readily found.

She found three more by-laws when she was going through all the papers in the pigeon holes.

The first by-law was passed on Jan. 29, 1872, and was a by-law to incorporate Mill Pond and allow for the appointment of certain officers for the new municipality.

By-laws used to be numbered in sequence, but for some years now have been numbered by the year.

Blanche's first job with the town was to do the tax bills and she was particularly interested in the old tax bills she came across during the clean up.

'Back in 1935 to 1938, we sure sold a lot of land for taxes,' she said, 'almost half the town. That was just at the end of the depression.'

The reason the town hall has a vault with pigeon holes along the wall is because it used to be a bank. The two older tables in the hall were once used by bank customers.

'We've had to change the combination on the vault door at least once,' Blanche said. 'It stuck once and no one could get it open. So we called a man from Belleville and he said, Good land, how many years has this been here.'

The tumbler had become worn and slipped and had to be moved so they would connect again.

'My cup runneth over!'

'When I heard that our Presbyterian Sunday School had won the Christmas draw, sponsored by the Deseronto Businessmen's Association, I said that I could say, with psalmist David...My cup runneth over.'

That was the reaction felt by Mrs. Mabel Moore, one of the two teachers at the Sunday School.

Hydro in for a fight from Sophiasburgh

About 15 of the property owners in Sophiasburgh, unhappy with the expropriation offers being made by Ontario Hydro for bringing the power line in under the Long Reach from North Fredericksburgh, have engaged an independent appraiser to check into their interests.

'Hydro offered me $1818 to bring the line over a 40-acre lot at the back of my property,' said Arnold DeVries of RR 8, Picton.

'I told the fellow who delivered the offer that you're not going to cross my land...buy the whole piece if you want to cross.'

'When we left Holland to come here we could have gone somewhere else, like Russia. But we came to Canada where we thought we could own something. You work your butt off, get your property and, 20 years later, find you don't really own it...it's been expropriated,' he said.

'That's the problem with the expropriation laws, they expropriate the property first and then you have to argue about price with nothing to argue with.'

Under the expropriation act, Ontario Hydro will pay for an independent appraiser and legal fees, where people are not willing to accept Hydro's expropriation offers.

The appraisal firm working for the Sophiasburgh property owners is W.H. Clipperton and Associates of Bownmanville.

'This appraiser is the same one who has been working the bear from Oshawa to Belleville,' Mr. DeVries said.

Ontario Hydro has run into a lot of opposition from land owners along the Oshawa-Belleville right-of-way too.

This is a nice story. So often prizes or draws are won by people who don't really need them. But this time, it was different.

The Sunday School only has eight children attending, and little money to use for teaching materials.

Mrs. Kay Hood, secretary-treasurer, and Mrs. Moore, superintendent, have kept the Sunday School going but, 'Many times I felt discouraged and wondered if it was worth while carrying on,' Mrs. Moore said.

The prize in the draw was a trip for two to Toronto, or the cash value, and the Sunday School has taken the $232, instead of a trip.

They are going to use the money for flannel boards, attendance charts and other Sunday School items.

Four tickets were entered for the Sunday School. 'We got them with Christmas presents we bought for the children at Brooks Department Store,' Mrs. Moore said. 'We had a Christmas party...a pot luck supper, and all the children sang a solo.'

Pupils at the Sunday School are Michelle, Keith and Travis Brooks (Mrs. Moore's grandchildren); Angela and Danny Loney, Pam and Andrew Meredith, and Trevor Sagisha.

'They were sure excited about it when they heard we won,' Mrs. Moore said.

The draw was made by a well known citizen, Stanley Van Dusen, and was held at the United Restaurant. When Mrs. Moore went to identify herself to Bill Lazarakos of the United Restaurant, Mr. Van Dusen was there and, jokingly, asked Mrs. Moore if he would get 10% of the money, or would she say a prayer for him herself. She assured him she would say a prayer.

Salt damage to bridge

Recently, Ontario's Minister of Transportation and Communications, James Snow, reported in the Legislature on bridges across the province which are not in the 'best of condition'...to say the least.

The Centre Street bridge, which spans the river in Napanee, is one of the bridges slated for repair. Test drill cores showed excessive salt reaction within the bridge and the work will be done to correct crumbling concrete.

Last week these three children were delighted with their unexpected day off school. This week the Scanner's editor found herself snowed in on the same street — on press day!

EDITORIAL

There's been a lot of flak about school taxes and plenty of suggestions as to how they might be lowered.

Well,

There've been a lot of complaints about school taxes and plenty of suggestions as to how they might be lowered.

Well, here's one more suggestion. If we got rid of the idiots behind the wheels of cars who insist on passing a school bus, which is stopped with signals flashing to let a child cross the road, the Hastings County Board of Education would be able to save somewhere in the neighbourhood of $22,000.

That's about what it will cost to equip all the school buses in Hastings County with stop arms, which are mounted on the traffic side of the bus and swing out, with alternating flashing lights top and bottom, when the bus is stopped and the door opens.

Over the past three years, the Ontario Ministry of Transportation and Communications, in conjunction with the Ontario School Bus Operators' Association and three Ontario School Boards, has conducted tests on the use of stop arms. These tests have shown a decrease in passing violations from 30% to 80%, depending on road and traffic conditions.

The transportation Committee of the Hastings Board of Education has recommended that all new school buses under contract and purchased after January 1, 1979, have a stop arm installed, and the cost depreciated over the life of the vehicle; that the board purchase stop arms during 1979 for buses under contract provided the operators absorb the installation cost; and that all school buses and school vans under contract to the board have stop arms installed by September 1, 1979.

Now, no one is going to quibble over $22,000 if it's going to save children's lives.

But isn't it too bad that all the taxpayers have to come up with extra money because of those few hard-core traffic offenders who won't obey the law and insist on passing a school bus which is stopped with its signals passing?

Letters to the Editor

Dear Editor:

Over the years, the residents of the Tyendinaga Reserve have dumped hundreds, and hundreds of thousands, possibly millions of dollars into the hands of the Deseronto merchants, thus contributing to the health and welfare of the Deseronto community at large.

No doubt you are aware of the fact that the water from many wells on the Reserve has been declared unfit for human consumption. In the interim while we are waiting for a long term solution to our drinking water problem ... it was suggested that the Reserve residents secure their drinking water from Deseronto, and, more specifically, from the Town Hall. I was surprised to learn that the town of Deseronto is charging the Reserve residents $2.50, two dollars and fifty cents for five gallons of drinking water. Certainly the Deseronto community at large is not aware of this charge! Certainly not the Deseronto merchants?

I feel that some Deseronto bureaucrats are capitalizing on our misfortune and revealing a smallness and a base ingratitude and more so in view of the patronage of our Reserve People over the years!

Sincerely,
Brant Joseph Maracle

FISHERMEN, BUYERS CHARGED

On completion of a lengthy investigation into the illicit sales of fish taken from Lake Ontario, charges have been laid against four fish buyers and fourteen commercial fishermen in the Napanee district.

Fish species determined to exceed health guidelines due to contaminants such as PCB's, Mirex and Mercury are closed to commercial fishing.

Charges which have been laid involve the taking, buying or sale of these fish during the closed season; possession of fish for sale which were unwholesome and submission of false returns.

Court cases are scheduled for trial early in 1979.

LIBRARY NOTES

Now that the busy holiday season is over how do you intend to spend your spare time during the bad weather?

Come and see the library craft book display in the main window of the library. Featured now are crafts traditionally assigned to women. This will be an on-going display dealing with most hobbies.

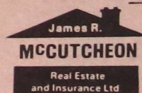

The library would like to make this a community effort so, if you have a favourite craft or hobby, we would like a sample of your work for display purposes. It will be tagged and returned to you when the display is over.

Come and get some ideas; a number of the craft books are new.

There are some new leisure reading books too. The library has Macdonald's 'The Empty Copper Sea'; Berton's 'The Last Frontier'; and Bruemmer's

'GOURMET' HAZARDS

About 1800 'Le Gourmet Food Processors' model 8000 have been sold in retail stores across Canada since last May and now the Canadian Standards Association (CSA) is urging consumers to return them because of potential hazards. The CSA monogram appears on the models but CSA says the units are not identical or do not conform to the units originally examined by CSA.

IN MEMORIAM

STUART - In loving memory of 'Pat' George Stuart, whom God called home January 14, 1978. Sadly missed by wife Evelyn and children Allan, Jim, Marilyn and Patricia.

Our hearts still ache with sadness

Our eyes still fill with tears

God only knows we miss you

As this ends one lonely year.

Since you've gone first, and I remain

To walk life's road alone

I know one day we'll meet again

In God's eternal home.

BAHA'U FAITH

'Night hath succeeded day, and day hath succeeded night, and the hours and moments of your lives have come and gone, yet none of you hath for one instant consented to detach yourselves from that which perisheth. Bestir yourselves, that the brief moments that are still yours may not be dissipated and lost. Even as the swiftness of lightning your days shall pass and your bodies shall be laid to rest beneath a canopy of dust. What can ye then achieve? How can ye atone for your past failure?'

'Appreciate the days in which you live for they shall come to you no more and you will never have a like opportunity.'

'He Who is the Everlasting Father calleth aloud between earth and heaven. Blessed is the ear that hath heard and the eye that hath seen and the heart that hath turned unto Him... This is that which the Son (Jesus) hath decreed.'

Restricted Area By-law 2-78

APPOINTMENT FOR HEARING

THE ONTARIO MUNICIPAL BOARD hereby appoints Wednesday, the 31st day of January, 1979 at the hour of half past ten o'clock (local time) in the forenoon at the Town Hall, Town of Deseronto, for the hearing of all parties interested in supporting or opposing this application.

If you do not attend and are not rep-

If you do not attend and are not represented at this hearing, the Board may proceed in your absence and you will not be entitled to any further notice of the proceedings.

In the event the decision is reserved, persons taking part in the hearing may request a copy of the decision from the presiding Board Member. Such decision will be mailed to you when available.

Explanatory Note - By-Law 2-78

The Council of a Municipality may pass a Restricted Area By-law under Section 35 and Section 35(a) of The Planning Act, R.S.O., 1970 as amended, to restrict the use of land. The purpose of By-law No. 2-78 is to regulate the use of land and the character, location and use of buildings and structures and, furthermore, to prohibit certain uses of land and the erection and use of certain buildings and structures and prohibit or require and regulate the provision, maintenance and use of certain facilities and matters as a condition for the development or redevelopment of lands, buildings or structures within various areas of the Corporation of the Town of Deseronto in accordance with the Official Plan for the Hastings County Planning Area.

By-law No. 2-78 will serve to regulate and restrict development within the Village which may create an adverse effect on existing areas or the development of land for a use which may be detrimental to the future orderly development of an area.

The provisions of the By-law will apply throughout all of the defined area within the corporate limits of the Town of Deseronto. No land shall be used and no building or structure shall be erected, altered or used in any manner except in conformity with the provisions of the By-law.

However, notwithstanding the foregoing statement, the By-law will not apply to prevent or hinder the continued use of any land, building or structure, which on the date of the passing of the By-law was legally used or erected for any purpose prohibited by the By-law, so long as it continues to be used for that purpose.

Explanatory Note - By-Law 13-78

This By-law provides for certain amendments to various parts of the original zoning by-law No. 2-78 and is the direct result of certain objections received by the Council of the Town of Deseronto following the passing of by-law No. 2-78.

Quinte artist designs and makes special jewellery

OLE THOMSEN

If you take a piece of jewellery into a shop in Belleville, Picton or Deseronto to be repaired, or if you want to have an individual piece of jewellery designed and produced, chances are the work will be done by Ole Thomsen, who lives on the Fish Lake Road in Sophiasburgh, right next to the Bethesda Hall.

The 'sen' on the end of his name indicates that he comes from Denmark. 'In Europe, people know where you come from by the spelling. In Norway and Sweden it's son, not sen,' Mr. Thomsen said.

He came from a long line of Copenhagen jewellers and his family have had the honour of acknowledgement for doing work for the Royal family. He learned his trade in his native Denmark.

'I apprenticed for four years,' he said. 'You have to sign a contract for the four years and you work in the daytime and go to school at night to learn the art and the designing. Sometimes you start at 8 in the morning and you're not finished until 8 or 9 at night.'

'It's not big pay, while you're apprenticing. You can't live on it and usually you live at home.'

'At the end of the four years, you have to design your own piece of jewellery for your test.' He did a butterfly pin.

His wife, Conny, who also came from Copenhagen, took her apprenticeship in hairdressing. She had to learn not only the cutting of men's and women's hair, but face and foot massage and wig-making.

Ole came to Canada back in 1956 and worked in Toronto where he later established his own jewellery business. He was also interested in getting into photography.

But his work in Toronto involved an hour's drive from BayRidges every day and they finally got 'fed up' with city living.

When they bought the farmhouse and 68 acres where they now live, they weren't sure just what they wanted to do and, for the first 6 or 8 months, just worked on the house, decorating it in bold Danish colours, adding a huge fireplace, and setting up some of the rooms upstairs for a small workshop.

Special session of Deseronto Town Council expresses regrets — but ...

Deseronto, January 16, 1979

The Town of Deseronto regrets the confusion that has ensued from the recent request by the Tyendinaga Reserve Administration personnel of this municipality's Clerk-Treasurer to provide a temporary supply of potable drinking water and to establish a cost of such service.

The rate of $2.50 for the first five gallons and 25 cents for each gallon thereafter was determined ad-hoc by the Clerk-Treasurer as a result of what he perceived to be an emergency telephone request by a resident of the Tyendinaga Reserve inquiring into the availability and price of potable water from the Town of Deseronto.

The Deseronto Town Council has never been consulted regarding the

ASSESSMENT INEQUALITIES GO BACK A LONG WAY

Many Ontario municipalities considering re-assessment

There are a lot of inequalities across the province in municipal property tax assessment structures.

In some places, like Deseronto, new houses are being assessed at modern values while older homes, to which extensive additions such as swimming pools have made, have not been reassessed and, although worth as much as the newer home, are taxed lower.

In Picton, according to clerk-treasurer G. Lodge, new properties are assessed at 1970 values.

In Sophiasburgh, a reassessment in 1968 was done on a market value basis and has not been updated.

Ameliasburgh was last re-assessed in 1967, Bloomfield in 1969, Belleville about 1963 or 4, Madoc in 1969. Kingston has not been done since the 1940's.

Jack McNie, clerk of Napanee, said there had been no recent discussion about reassessment there.

Many people were hopeful that assessment equalization would be accomplished when the Ontario Government introduced its long-touted Property Tax Reform.

However, the program has been scrapped, after 11 years of studies and more studies. Last spring, the then Ontario treasurer, Darcy McKeough, announced that the Government had decided to abandon the Property Tax Reform program, at least for the immediate future.

Until about 10 years ago, property tax assessment was done by each individual municipality. Then the Provincial Government took it over, and Hastings and Prince Edward are now assessed by the Ministry of Revenue's assessment office in Trenton.

When the Provincial Government took over, it put a freeze on assessments, pending a reform of the whole property tax structure.

Although the reform program has been cancelled out, this does not mean that a municipality can not get any change made in assessments.

In response to a request from the Deseronto Town Council, two representatives from the Ontario Ministry of Revenue attended the last meeting of council to explain how a reassessment could be done...not across the board...but within property categories. They were R.E. Bailey, from head office in Toronto, and G.L. Thompson, the Regional Assessment Commissioner from Trenton.

Tyendinaga chief replies to letter on water charges

Last week, the Scanner carried a letter to the editor from a resident of the Tyendinaga Reserve, criticizing the Town of Deseronto for charging Reserve residents $2.50 for five gallons of drinking water.

The letter below, from Chief Donald Brant, points out that the viewpoint of the writer of the previous letter is not necessarily that of other members of the Band.

Dear Editor:

As the Town of Deseronto citizens are aware, there has been a water contamination problem brought to the attention of the Chief and Council of the Tyendinaga Reserve, and as you also are very likely aware, tests taken by National Health and Welfare have proven there is some contamination in the area of the Bayshore Road East of the Quinte Skyway.

As an immediate measure, the people of the contaminated area were instructed to not use this water for drinking or cooking without boiling it or not use it at all if tests have shown it to be unpotable.

To this end, we instructed the people of the area through a letter to inquire about water in Deseronto at the Town Hall on a short term basis. The Town Hall was mentioned only because there is someone there at all times during working hours.

The amount of water for drinking to be used by Reserve Residents and the price of such water has been blown way out of proportion as most news items are.

The people of the area were instructed that if the purchase of water was a financial hardship that we may offer some help if asked. In speaking to Mr. Milligan of the Town no one has been in to get water nor has anyone asked Band Council for any financial assistance to purchase water on a short term basis.

We have not entered into any negotiations with the Town Council on water delivery or any other means to transport as a long term project.

We have a very close and good working relationship with the Town of Deseronto on all aspects through the Mayor and Council and the Administrative level.

The view taken by a Reserve Resident in last week's Scanner was not necessarily the viewpoint of Chief and Council of the Reserve.

If we enter into an agreement with Deseronto Town Council pertaining to water either on a short term basis or a long term agreement, I am sure we can come up with a satisfactory solution on both sides.

Old man winter sure has closed in on us, ain't he. That storm last weekend was quite something, with all that freezing rain. Sure made one heck of a mess out of the roads. Main highways wasn't too bad, but I figgered my old liver were going to get shook clean out when my old truck hit the Picton Main Street. Mind you, the springs ain't what they were. Come over to Deseronto with my copy and were real surprised to see their roads was better. Relieved too, didn't figger my innards could take two shakings like that in one day.

EDITORIAL

Why is one small pane in this window transparent and the others are not?

All except this one are covered with plastic to keep out the wind and cold.

The window is over my kitchen sink in my cotta ge at Northport. My family know how much I hate the winter and 'Couldn't stand the idea of trapping Mom in behind plastic all those months without a peephole into the sunshine and the world outside,' so they left one pane uncovered.

I do hate and fear the winter...and with good reason.

I guess it started years ago when a friend of mine died of exposure in a hay stack where he had crawled for protection after going through some ice.

And I didn't get to like the winter any better as the years went by.

When my kids were little, we were living in a Quebec mining town called Malartic...the Bad Arctic to any non-bilingual readers. To support the kids I had to walk a mile and a half to work in temperatures as low as 55 below zero F.

There was always a strong, bitter wind. It brought tears to my eyes, and when I wiped them out, they were ice cubes.

When you're walking in temperatures like that, all you see of people you meet on the road is feet. The ice crystals in the air make the rest of the bodies invisible.

After the same long walk home from work, I had to fight a brute of a furnace...an oil drum on legs...which devoured green birch in huge, unwieldy (for someone my size) logs. Getting the family through a winter without freezing in meant buck-sawing my way through 30 cords of the stuff, and then worrying all night about chimney fires. It was so cold at night that you could hear the nails contracting and snapping out of the house like bullet shots. And you checked whether your kids were still breathing by looking for the steam coming up from the pillows into the cold bedrooms.

Later on, I lived in an Ontario mining town...north of the Lakehead and 80 miles in from the Trans Canada Highway. I had a car by then, and when I set out for the Lakehead, 100 miles away, in addition to the usual shovel, booster cables and sand, I carried a salami, a sleeping blanket and a bottle of Scotch...for survival.

I always started about an hour before the OPP patrol was scheduled. An hour was all I would have lasted if the car had decided to go off the road.

One morning, it was 60 below zero and I had to bring the battery into the house and warm it up before it would start. In those temperatures, you didn't honk the horn...the plastic would just shatter.

Now living in Northport in the winter is a lot better than living up north. But I'm not as young as I used to be and digging my car out after a storm...or braving the storm to get to work...is not exactly my idea of a fun way to spend a morning.

Anything that helps to brighten up the winter is a godsend.

The peephole in my kitchen window is one of the nicest and most thoughtful present I have ever received.

Why not take a look around and see if there is anything you can do to make the winter a little brighter for someone you know.

Quinte News Round Up

AFTER THE TITLE

Four contestants have entered the contest for carnival queen at Napanee's Winter Carnival, scheduled for Feb. 1 to 4.

The queen will be chosen Feb. 1 and will reign over the next three days events, including a log-sawing and nail-driving contest, dances, pancake breakfast, 15-mile snowmobile race, dog-sled races and skating carnival.

SNO-FEST FOR MARMORA

A 150-mile course, commencing in Marmora at noon on February 15, will be the highlight of the SnoFest 79 in Marmora, featuring the Canadian Long Distance Sled Dog Championship Race, managed by the Arctic Sled Dog Club of Ontario. Support will be given by the local Snowmobile Clubs and C.B.Clubs.

The winner will be presented with the Marmora Cup and a purse of $1,500 plus other trophies and valuable merchandise will also be awarded.

DAIRY HERD AWARDS

George Harker, RR 4, Napanee won the most improved herd award presented at the Lennox and Addington

Dairy Herd Improvement Association's annual meeting in Napanee. He also won the composite breed class average award for a herd of between 50 and 100 cows.

Gaynor Rendell, RR 6, Napanee, received the breed class average award for a herd of up to 50 cows.

Howard McGinness, RR 2, Bath, got the best calving interval award.

FOR WHOM THE BELL RINGS

Bell Canada has given its 18,000 clerical workers a 12.5 per cent increase over one year.

News items like that are apt to make rural people mighty angry. Bell is supposed to be in business to provide a service but they're spending so much money developing colour and mickey mouse phones...installing jacks in all rooms of urban houses for users' convenience...and, now, giving high raises to their clerical workers...that they still can't do any better for us rural folks than that eight people to a line.

We've got another beef too...the service isn't reliable. If the electricity had kept going off and coming on again like the phone did in the recent blizzard, we'd have been in pretty bad shape.

Come on, Ma Bell, and provide some of the service we're willing to pay for.

POTATO GROWERS' POLL

Fresh potato growers will be asked to consider a proposal to establish a promotional marketing plan for the Province's growers. The proposed plan excludes potatoes sold for processing or as certified seed and exempts a grower or a group of growers who produce less than five acres of potatoes.

The polls will be conducted in the Ministry of Agriculture and Food field offices.

WHERE ARE THE ANTLETS???

Here's an interesting question. There are a lot of deer in Prince Edward County. If adult deer shed their antlers each year, why don't we find them lying in the woods occasionally?

The Ontario Ministry of Natural Resources says there are two simple reasons.

First, Mother Nature doesn't waste anything: antlers, like dead trees, eventually break down and are returned to the soil to be used again.

Second, antlers are quickly found by rodents, foxes, wolves or coyotes and are eaten for the minerals they contain.

If you are fortunate enough to find an antler, examine it closely. You will probably discover the teeth marks of one of these animals.

WOOD HAZARD HELP

In our last issue, we carried a story giving tips on heating safely with wood.

Seems we're not the only ones concerned about the hazard encountered by people unaccustomed to burning wood for fuel.

We've just received a copy of a new publication from Central Mortgage and Housing Corporation called, 'Heating with Wood - Safely'.

According to CMHC, 'It is more than just a book on the hazards of heating wood and how to avoid them; it is more than a list of precautions to be taken, installation methods to be used, or maintenance procedures to be observed.

'It is the useful companion for all those whose hearts are more enjoyably warmed by the heat of the old pot-belly stove Grandmother was anxious to get rid of. It is the valuable possession of those who search attics, antique shops and any other source, however remote, just to reclaim the once-forgotten old wood burner.'

ENERGY SAVING

Back in 1974-75, Loyalist College was one of the four highest energy consumers within the community college system.

Now, it is one of three of the lowest in the system.

HOWEVER IT'S FIGURED...IT'S UP

Effective January 1, tax rates for gasoline and diesel fuel are based on the litre instead of the gallon. The new rates will be 4.2 cents per litre for gasoline, 0.66 cents for aviation fuel and 5.5 cents for diesel fuel. The rates per gallon were 18, 3 and 25 cents respectively before, Ontario's Minister of Revenue reports.

water problems occasioned to residences on the Bayshore Road located in the eastern portion of the Tyndinaga Reserve and has assumed that the Band Council is working towards a solution through other channels.

The Council of the Town of Deseronto, in plenary session during the evening of January 16, 1979, resolved, both in keeping with its fiscal responsibility to the electorate of the Town of Deseronto and in recognizing the spirit of co-operation and coordination that has prevailed between Deseronto citizens and members of the Tyndinaga Reserve, that there be made available drinking water to the Reserve residents in question from a Town facility at a typical Deseronto householders rate.

The Town of Deseronto is willing and anxious to co-operate with the Mohawks of the Bay of Quinte Band Council in solving their long term water requirements if requested to do so.

Deseronto Council Briefs

... At its first meeting in January, Deseronto Council agreed to endorse a recommendation from the Township of Kingston concerning income tax exemptions for professional firemen. Fire Chief Ralph Lawlor had indicated, verbally, that this had been discussed and in the past they had tried to get this put through. Chief Lawlor said he would like to see council endorse it.

... Councillor R. Cole, reporting for the Municipal Administration Committee, told council that it was well within budget for 1978.

... Council approved purchase of a throw-out fire safety device for the apartment above the Town Hall.

... A request for an additional school crossing guard, at the intersection of Dundas and Green Streets, was turned over to the Fire and Police Committee.

... Councillor Bob Graydon reported that several people had asked him if the base water rate was the same for the premises with five people as for one. Mayor Neal said it was a flat rate with a charge for the number of outlets.

... Councillor A. Blayney drew to Council's attention the fact that one of the town's residents, Mrs. Wilson, will be 100 years old very soon; and suggested Council make some acknowledgement of this. The matter was turned over to Roger Cole.

... Projects which might be eligible for the Young Canada Works Program were discussed. Deadline for applications is February 2. It was suggested that more work might be done on compiling of the Town's history.

... Permission was given to the Deseronto Lion's Club Boat Racing Committee to use Centennial Park on July 1 for the purpose of again holding International Boat Races, under the same conditions as last year.

... The yearly report from A.D. Meeks, animal control officer, showed that 71 dogs were picked up and 66 taken to the pound, 56 dog tags were sold bringing in $286, and 1,729 miles of town patrol were done. In addition, Mr. Meeks totalled up 707 jail hours.

... Permission was given to Chief Norman Clark and to A. Meeks to be paid two weeks vacation in lieu of time off.

Deseronto passes six new by-laws

Councillor Roger Cole, chairman of Deseronto Council's new Municipal Administration Committee, ran out of breath at council's Jan. 8 meeting as he gave first, second and third readings to six new by-laws. Councillor Clarence Zieman gave him a hand and took over part of the reading.

The by-laws passed were:

TRAFFIC VIOLATIONS

Under a new by-law, it will cost the owner of a vehicle, parked in contravention of the by-law, $5 for overtime parking (there was no specific fine set for this before) and $5 for parking after one a.m. from Dec. 15 to March 15.

Fines can be paid out of court within 72 hours at the Clerk-treasurer's office.

CONTROL OF DOGS

If your dog doesn't have a Deseronto licence tag, it will cost $15, which can also be paid out of court to the Clerk-treasurer's office.

FINANCING

THE PLANNING ACT
(R.S.O. 1970, c.3491)
and
IN THE MATTER OF
an application
by the Town of Deseronto
for approval of its
Restricted Area By-Law 2-78

APPOINTMENT FOR HEARING

THE ONTARIO MUNICIPAL BOARD hereby appoints Wednesday, the 31st day of January, 1979 at the hour of half past ten o'clock (local time) in the forenoon at the Town Hall, Town of Deseronto, for the hearing of all parties interested in supporting or opposing this application.

If you do not attend and are not represented at this hearing, the Board may proceed in your absence and you will not be entitled to any further notice of the proceedings.

In the event the decision is reserved, persons taking part in the hearing may request a copy of the decision from the presiding Board Member. Such decision will be mailed to you when available.

Explanatory Note - By-Law 2-78
The Council of a Municipality may pass a Restricted Area By-law under Section 35 and Section 35(a) of The Planning Act, R.S.O., 1970 as amended, to restrict the use of land. The purpose of By-law No. 2-78 is to regulate the use of land and the character, location and use of buildings and structures and, furthermore, to prohibit certain uses of land and the erection and use of certain buildings and structures and prohibit or require and regulate the provision, maintenance and use of certain facilities and matters as a condition for the development or redevelopment of lands, buildings or structures within various areas of the Corporation of the Town of Deseronto in accordance with the Official Plan for the Hastings County Planning Area.

By-law No. 2-78 will serve to regulate and restrict development within the Village which may create an adverse effect on existing areas or the development of land for a use which may be detrimental to the future orderly development of an area.

The provisions of the By-law will apply throughout all of the defined areas within the corporate limits of the Town of Deseronto. No land shall be used and no building or structure shall be erected, altered or used in any manner except in conformity with the provisions of the By-law.

However, notwithstanding the foregoing statement, the By-law will not apply to prevent or hinder the continued use of any land, building or structure, which on the date of the passing of the By-law was legally used or erected for any purpose prohibited by the By-law, so long as it continues to be used for that purpose.

Explanatory Note - By-Law 13-78
This By-law provides for certain amendments to various parts of the original zoning By-law No. 2-78 and is the direct result of certain objections received by the Council of the Town of Deseronto following the passing of By-law No. 2-78.

Assessment rolls frozen in 1972

'Assessment rolls were frozen in 1972,' Mr. Bailey said, 'and the inequities go back many years.'

'The Ontario Minister of Revenue has proposed that we will effect and institute reform with the proviso that the percentage of taxes presently born by a property group...such as residential...will not be increased. We will readjust within a classification. The total taxes the group will generate will not exceed the present proportion of the total municipal tax. But there may well be shifts of taxes within a classification,' Mr. Bailey said.

For example, if residential properties were paying say, 50% of the total taxes, they would continue to generate that 50%. But one residential property that was under-assessed might be raised and another residential property lowered.

NO CHARGE TO MUNICIPALITY

Reassessment can be done at no direct charge to the municipality. If council puts in a request to the Minister, a study can be done by government assessors. This study is then presented to council which can decide whether to proceed with a reassessment or not.

Deseronto councillors, particularly A. Blayney, had quite a few questions to ask.

'What yardstick do you use?'...1975

market values'.

'How many would be hit by the tax change?...The study would help decide this.'

'Would they need access to properties?...Yes, but we're not going to burst doors down. If we don't get in and have to guess about values, the property owners will come to us with questions later about how we did the evaluation and, at that time, they'll be ready to discuss it.'

'How many property categories can there be?...It can go up to nine categories. In fact, we could put one industry in a category by itself, if necessary.'

'If we give the go-ahead now, is it possible we could have reassessment for 1980?...Yes'.

A reassessment has just been completed by the Provincial Government for Stirling, which had last been reassessed in 1969.

'Stirling is going to be the test,' Mr. Bailey said. But he was not at liberty to reveal final reports on Stirling at present.

Deseronto Council is considering implementation of the reassessment here. Okaying the preliminary study would not cost the town and would not commit council to further action.

Ringette is sport for girls

BY JACK LAYFIELD

Ringette is a sport uniquely designed for females, which involves team participation, fun, sportsman-ship, fellowship, safety and healthy competition.

The sport is played on any regulation ice surface. Players wear tube skates, but very little other protective equipment is required since there can be no body contact, and all rules are designed with the safety of the participants in mind.

Although the sport is only 15 years old in Canada, it has been projected that by late 1979 over 100,000 girls in Canada will be enjoying this winter team sport. Ringette also challenges the age old cry of many parents that organized winter sports favour boys, with nothing for girls.

Here, in Deseronto, Community Centre Management, with the co-operation of the Recreation Committee, is interested in assisting to get Ringette started for girls of all ages who may have no interest in attempting to play hockey, but are interested in a team sport.

To do that, we first need interest from the girls, also parents or other interested individuals who are willing to familiarize themselves with the rules of the game, and ready to help out on ice.

Additional information is available at the arena, with forms available in the canteen and ticket office to record names of anyone interested in participating.

A Prince Edward County group of girls now practise Ringette at the Deseronto Arena on Thursdays at 6:00 p.m. This would be an ideal time for local girls and their parents to find out what the game is all about.

Hell hath no fury ... beware Pierre

BY JEREMIAH BENDER

A temptress! A seductress!

Luring strong-willed men with the mystery of half promises, she intoxicates. Dressed in a flimsy floor-length black negligee, her loosely falling hair flowing in the breeze, she slips into their innermost private fantasies. Pouring them the nectar of power, they are titillated. And then inebriated, these men of strength capitulate, professing eternal love...attempting to woo her...desiring only to win her completely. But she is a fickle lover, this woman they call Eve...Ms. Eve Election.

Notorious...is Ms. Eve, her escapades well-known throughout the land. Lover after lover, bitten then smitten...broken hearts strewn along life's masterplan.

But is she at fault, this sweet innocent? For it is they who call for an election...who anticipate the eve of that election...who lust after Eve, Ms. Eve Election.

Strong-willed men, battered and beaten...Davie Barrett (NDP-B.C.); Eddie Schreyer (NDP-Man.); Bobbie Bourassa (Lib.-Que.); Gerry Regan (Lib.-N.S.); Joey Smallwood (Lib.-Nfld.)...

Strong-willed men, harried and humbled...Willie Davis (PC-Ont.); Alex Campbell (Lib.-Pei.)...

Strong-willed men, watchful and wary...Al Blakeney (NDP-Sask.); Dickie Hatfield (PC-N.B.)...

CONTINENTAL CHARM

Only one man, one strong-willed man, soft and sensitive, made her feel like a real woman. Not the blatant, lascivious lusting of so many only seeking Ms. Eve's favours. Au contraire (on the contrary), continental charm itself, gentle caring tenderness...Pierre Trudeau (Lib.-Ottawa) touched Ms. Eve's soul, her inner being.

He made her feel beautiful. Tracing the lines of her face, he would pass his fingers through the length of her hair before pulling her toward him. And it was always the small things he noticed ('Do you have a job, are prices rising? Here's some money, I'll just print more if I have a budget deficit...How's your hospitalization, your education?'; the precious tender moments ('Whisper sweet nothings in my ear...in two languages!'). He made her feel held.

And so the years passed, ever-so-fleeting. During the first blush of their togetherness (1968 et al), their love soared...scored like the bird on the wing. Gaoated there was a nasty moment or two (1972), but then lovers are apt to quarrel. The exquisite ecstasy when he gave of himself, the searing pain when he withdrew into himself. She came to accept his moods, 'Oh, so very complex! But such a man!', and by 1974, Pierre and Eve had settled into a long-term relationship appreciating each other's strengths, understanding o ne another's human foibles.

Until about a year ago....

It wasn't the same anymore. His words sounded mechanical. Somehow, his mind seemed to be drifting...Until the questions began to stop, along with the precious tender moments...And he stopped giving her money, something about not being able to borrow or print any more.

MINI ELECTION

Then there were the rumours. Another woman! A younger woman! Her own sister, Ms. Mini...Mini Election...Mini and Pierre criss-crossing the country visiting the very same places where they had shared, 'Oh, so very much!' - Newfoundland (Humber-St. George's-St. Barbe); Nova Scotia (Halifax-East Hants); New Brunswick (Fundy-Royal); Quebec (Lotbiniere, St. Hyacinthe, Westmount); Ontario (Hamilton-Westnorth, York-Scarborough, Rosedale, Parkdale, Broadview, Eglinton, Ottawa Centre); Manitoba (St. Boniface); British Columbia (Burnaby-Richmond-Delta).

And then, on October 16, he held a nation-wide party in her honour, calling it...Mini Election!

Pierre assured Ms. Eve, 'It's only an infatuation. It'll pass. Let's meet soon, have a rendez-vous on Oct. 17. We'll spend lots of time together! His words seemed wooden, his thoughts drifting to Ms. Mini, as he continued, 'We'll have a nation-wide party in your honour next Spring or during the summer...for sixty days! We'll call it...Eve Election.'

Hell hath no fury like a woman scorned. Fuming, Ms. Eve freed herself from Pierre's embrace, floating into the silence of the cool dark night. And when last heard of...dressed in a flimsy, floor-length black negligee, her loosely falling hair flowing in the breeze, she had slipped into the innermost private fantasies of Messieurs Joey Clark (PC-Rocky Mountain), Eddie Broadbent (NDP-Oshawa) and Lorry Reznowski (I-Socred-St. Boniface)...pouring them the nectar of power.

Participate in Canada's Employment Tax Credit Program.

The Employment Tax Credit Program was introduced by the Government of Canada to stimulate employment in the private sector.

In essence, we're encouraging you to expand your work force by providing a tax break for your business.

The potential annual tax credit for each new employee is over $3,000. And there is no limit to the number of new employees you can hire.

Now, by using the experience we've gained so far, we've changed the program to make it even more attractive.

Up to 33% more tax credit.

The maximum term for the tax credit has been increased from nine to 12 months for each new employee. That means up to 33% more tax credit.

Greater eligibility.

We have expanded the number and types of businesses eligible to benefit. Now almost every business that's been operating in Canada for a year or more can join in.

Wider choice of new employees.

Now, almost anyone who's unemployed and registered at a Canada Employment Centre for a minimum of two weeks is eligible.

A minimum of red tape.

We've simplified the procedure, so you can do the whole thing, from beginning to end, with just two single-page forms.

For full details on the program, contact any Canada Employment Centre/Canada Manpower Centre.

Jeweller learned trade in Denmark

One day when they were in Belleville, they were talking to a jeweller who said, 'We need someone like you around here'. Jewellery shops were having to send repair work and custom jewellery requests to larger places like Toronto. This took time.

'All of a sudden, I had 10 accounts,' Ole said.

He does repairs to jewellery and, if someone has a special piece of jewellery in mind, he will do up a design for approval and then go ahead with the work.

He is now planning to make some renovations at the back of the house so he can expand his working area.

In his workshop, he has an acetylene torch, which he uses for melting gold and silver. The hot metal can be poured into moulds. Strips, cooled in the moulds, can then be run through rollers to flatten and thin them out for necklaces and other fine work.

He does mostly ring work and he gets his stones from Toronto.

One of the rings he liked especially was an odd-shaped lump of gold which he had used for the top of the ring. 'I melted it, and just let it cool as it was,' he said.

With gold, silver and precious stones in the house, the Thomsons are not too concerned about a robbery. They have a big industrial safe and a big dog.

They really enjoy living in the country. Both are cross-country skiers and skate. In the summer, they spend a lot of time on the water and have just bought a small cruiser.

They did try having few farm animals. A neighbour, Arnold DeVries, got us two little calves. They were only two weeks old and we had to teach them to drink, Conny said. 'When we went out the next morning, there were four more there. We knew they couldn't reproduce that fast. Arnold had brought us four more to look after.'

They don't have any farm stock of their own now but the farmland is not lying idle ... they rent it out to a neighbour.

Would they ever go back to Denmark to live? No, they say. There are hard times and good times wherever you are and, 'It's more free here in Canada. You can survive better and can have more.'

Quinte Old Timers Meet

The Quinte Old Timers Club 513 ended the year 1978 with a very eventful month.

A successful euchre party was sponsored by the club. There were 13 tables of euchre in progress. Another euchre party is planned for early in the new year.

A Christmas party was arranged by Elsie Palmer. The dinner provided by Mrs. Ethel Kemp was greatly enjoyed by all. The choir organized by Jennie McQueen directed by Maude Cochrane sang several choral selections. The choir was accompanied by Helen Tunncliffe at the piano. The Christmas Nativity Scene was also presented by the choir with appropriate choral accompaniment.

Two soloists on the program were Maude Cochrane and Mabel Moore. Eric Gustafson played musical selections on the saxophone. As the choir sang, 'Here Comes Santa Claus', Santa and Mrs. Claus arrived and presented each one with a gift. The program ended by singing 'We Wish You a Merry Christmas'.

At the general meeting on December 20, Mabel Moon thanked everyone who attended the dinner and expressed her pleasure and pride in the success of the choir. The usual reports were read and approved. A letter from the librarian, Gloria Greenfield, requesting permission to use the projector and equipment. The projector would be used in the hall to present films for the senior citizens. This request was approved by the members.

Leo Palmer and Jack McEwen were appointed to purchase and install locks on the cupboards. It is hoped that the Club can assist in finishing the basement rooms so it would be possible to place the shuffle board and other games, ready to be used.

The weekly 'drop-ins' started again on Jan. 3. Craft classes commenced Jan. 31, to continue for eight weeks. The choir began practice for a Valentine program. They are invited to participate in a variety show in Belleville on February 17. Meeting adjourned and a luncheon was served by Elsie Palmer and assistants.

Deseronto girls' hockey team loses to Napanee

On Saturday, January 13, the girls played host to Napanee. The girls played a strong first two periods but just could not get untracked in the third period.

Deseronto took a 1-0 lead in the first period on a goal by Patti Ann Farrell, assisted by Ann Marie Whalen. Napanee scored and the first period ended tied 1-1.

Napanee scored the only goals of the second period to lead 3-1 going into the third period. The third period turned out to be a disaster for the girls as Napanee scored four times while Deseronto managed only one.

Deseronto's second goal was scored by Ann Marie Whalen, assisted by Val Brant.

Final score was Napanee 7, Deseronto 2.

This Saturday the girls play Godfrey in a battle for second place. Game time in Deseronto is 1:30.

The girls will hold their annual travelling bake sale this Saturday, January 20. To be sure you are not missed, place your order for home baking by calling 396-5941.

A THIEF! ... WHO ME??

79-year-old woman wants council to help feed birds ... not squirrels

Mrs. K. Pettis of Centre Street, Deseronto, has given up her battle with the squirrels, and the birds who have depended on her feeder for their winter nourishment will have to look elsewhere.

'I've had three squirrels turn on me and one large gray one was so bold that, even with my cane, I was hardly able to get back into the house,' she reported to Town Council in a letter read at council meeting Monday night. 'I hope something can be done about this situation.'

Town Council has dumped it into the lap of Bud Meeks, animal control officer.

Mrs. Pettis is 79 years old. A couple of years ago, she broke her hip and gets around, when she can, with the help of a cane.

For years, the birds have been used to coming to her home in the winter for their food and, for years, she has been fighting to protect the food supply from the squirrels.

'Last winter, I had a feeder on the clothesline and the squirrels took all the feed. This year, a kind neighbour made a special feeder for me and put it up on top of a steel pole, closer to the house, where I could reach it,' she said.

The trouble is...so can the squirrels.

'I'm sick of them,' she said. 'There was one grey one on the feeder and I tried to get him with my cane. He came right at me and I hardly got into the house. One of my neighbours got bitten by one last year.'

So, she has had to decide to stop putting out food for the birds.

When birds get used to coming to a particular feeder for food, they depend on finding food there. Mrs. Pettis is trying to save the birds but now hopes they will find another feeding spot.

She said she wouldn't mind paying rent for a trap to catch them and move them somewhere else, but she wouldn't be able to handle moving the squirrels herself.

What Bud Meeks will do about the problem is not yet known. At press time, Tuesday, the Scanner had not been able to reach him for comment.

But one of the people working at the Scanner had a suggestion. Put a metal cone upside down on the bottom of the feeder.

Baby bonus credit will not affect welfare payments

Will the new Refundable Child Tax Credit Program help municipalities reduce welfare costs?

R.E. Tucker, director of social services for Hastings County, told the Scanner that this was the first time he had heard that question raised, but he thought that welfare costs would not be reduced because some families would be getting lump sum cheques under the new program.

Last month, Royal Assent was given to a bill setting lower Federal Family Allowance rates for 1979 and establishing the Refundable Child Tax Credit Program.

The program will provide...for the 1978 income tax year...up to $200 per child for children under 18 years of age. The full benefit will be available to families whose income during 1978 was $18,000 or less. The benefits will be reduced by 5% of any income above this amount.

This means that a family now on welfare, which made $18,000 or less during 1978, with five children, will be receiving a cheque for $1,000.

The question the Scanner asked Mr. Tucker was whether that money will be added to the family income for calculating welfare assistance, which could mean a reduction of $1,000 in welfare payments to a family, with a resulting saving for taxpayers.

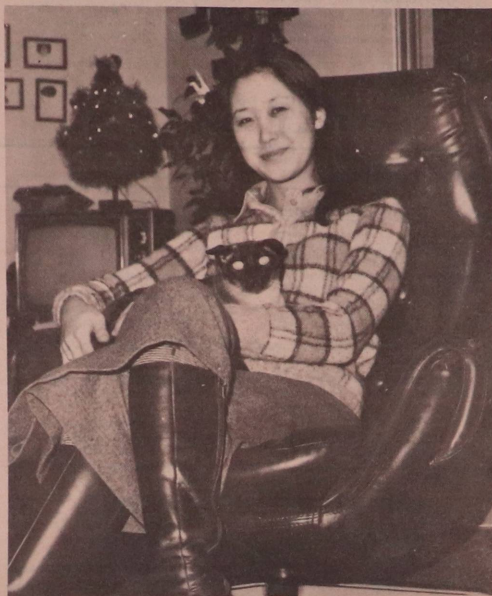

'No municipality is allowed to regard as income monies received by parents for the children as family allowance,' Mr. Tucker said.

'We don't regard income tax credits...or old age property tax credits...as income,' he said. 'I would have to assume that in line with other credits, the refundable Child Tax Credit would also not be regarded as income.'

Hastings County has already felt the pinch of the effects of unemployment...inflation...and the general economic picture.

'We were overspent about 12% last year,' he said.

He explained that, by law, the municipality has to provide assistance to anyone meeting the qualifying conditions

Ikuko Harada enjoying Canadian winter

Reporter is like marriage go-between wants all your history: Japanese visitor

Ikuko Harada, of Tokyo, Japan, had never been interviewed by a newspaper before when she talked to the Scanner at the home of Picton friends.

'You're like the go-between in Japan,' she said. 'Marriages are arranged there and the go-between gets the personal history.'

Ikuko is a charming, graceful, well-educated young lady who has already travelled to England, Europe, Thailand, Singapore and Moscow, and is now spending a few months learning about Canada.

She is tall, too, five foot six. 'Taller than my father,' she laughed. Japanese children, like those in many other countries, are outstripping their parents these days.

Ikuko is familiar with the activities of the go-between. A marriage had been arranged for her but she didn't want it and set off 'to see the world'.

She does feel that the system of arranging marriages is a good one.

'The partners have to put more into it and they are more suited, with the same background. We still have a class system, almost a caste, and the possibility of divorce is very low.'

Although the thinking about women's rights in Japan is still traditional, in Japanese families it is the wife who handles the money. 'A husband gives all he earns to his wife,' she said.

Ikuko reads and writes English fluently, but has a bit of a problem speaking the language. Her accent is perfect but sometimes she has to turn to a friend for a word she can't quite remember. Students in Japan study English for six years.

No way we'd move the deer — Ministry of Natural Resources replies to Prince Edward County Warden's suggestion

Deer hunting is back in the news again in Prince Edward County.

Although last year's county council turned thumbs down on the idea of an archery season for deer, the new warden, Ben Prinzen, in his inaugural speech, opened the door to more discussion by suggesting either the introduction of a short deer hunting season or an approach to the Ontario Ministry of Natural Resources requesting them to relocate some of the deer.

'There's no way we'd get into relocating the deer now,' Dave Jones of the Ministry's office in Napanee told the Scanner. 'Relocation of deer has been tried...not by this Ministry, but some Humane Societies have offered and then found they couldn't afford to do it.'

What about the warden's other suggestion of a deer hunt?

'As far as a deer hunting season is concerned,' Mr. Jones said, 'County Council is not really the controlling body, but we try to respect their decision. If we received a resolution from the county, it would go through this office to Toronto, requesting that there be a season.'

Last night, a group of county residents presented a brief to county council in which they said they considered the wish of last year's council to not have a deer hunting season truly reflected the wishes of the majority of the ratepayers and that the situation had not changed.

In the brief, they suggested that before any action was taken by the new County Council, a referendum should be held and further suggested that an unbiased opinion of the number of deer in the county be obtained. They questioned the figures estimated by the Ministry of Natural Resources last year.

'Last year, through aerial and other surveys, we estimated there were about 350 to 400 deer in the county at that time,' Mr. Jones said.

How do you figure how many deer are too many? One way could be to look at the number of times they get in the way of road traffic...traffic hazard was one of the reasons given for suggesting a hunting season.

Down in southwestern Ontario, in the Cambridge district, some 250 to 300 deer are killed by highway traffic every year. In Prince Edward County last year, only a

WHO NEEDS PIXILATED DRIVERS?

The Ontario Ministry of Transportation and Communications has come up with some significant changes to the Highway Traffic Act, one of which is that drivers convicted of a third, or more, drinking and driving charge will lose their licences for a minimum of three years.

Now, it's pretty well known that anyone who does drink and drive has a good chance of getting away with it. The police can't be everywhere at once. So it would seem that anyone who actually does get caught at it three times, must do an awful lot of pixilated driving.

A suspension of three years minimum doesn't seem like a very high price to pay for the 'privilege' of jeopardizing not only their own safety but the safety of all other users of the road.

However, even somewhat stiffer penalties for drunks behind the wheel are a step in the right direction.

Another change in the Highway Traffic Act will be welcomed by any driver who dreads having a big truck close on his tail. Now trucks travelling over 60 kilometers an hour on Ontario roads will be forbidden to follow any vehicle closer than 60 metres, or approximately 200 feet.

There's one new permission in the HTA changes. An amendment allows for a left-hand turn on a red light...after coming to a stop...from a one-way street to another one-way street.

Things sure been quiet on the political front lately. No body making no waves at all. Even the local politicians been playing kind of low key. Must be the mid winter blues or something.

Did hear one piece on the radio the other day, about some school board that was getting flak about not letting the public know what all they were planning to talk about at their meetings. Seems folks felt they was being kept from getting out and saying their piece, when they didn't know what was coming up. Anyways, they passes this motion saying that they was all in favour of keeping the public in the know, but that they wasn't about to publish the agendas for their meetings in advance.

Now seems to me, that's like passing a motion saying you're all in favour of motherhood, then turning around and banning pregnancy. Or how about us farmers passing a motion that we're all prepared to starve to death in the public interest, then raising the price of food by fifty percent. If a feller put his mind to it he could come up with some real beauties.

Still and all, I reckon that what politics is all about. I always figured that the real good politician is the one who can tell folks something they don't want to hear, and make it sound like it's real good news while he's telling it. That way he don't get no problems cause folks don't figger it out until later. Long as the words sound good, I reckon you can get away with nearly anything. Too bad it don't work on my Elma, or maybe I just ain't got the gift of the gab.

Deer hunt in news

very few deer were involved in traffic accidents, according to a report prepared by the OPP detachment at Picton.

So, wherever the deer are in Prince Edward County, they seem to have enough sense to keep off the road, even if there are as many as 350 to 400 of them hiding somewhere.

As for the suggestion vetoed by last year's Prince Edward County Council for an archery deer-hunting season in the county, Dave Jones said, 'Even if there was an overpopulation of deer, an archery season wouldn't do any good at all. An archery season provides recreation, but it doesn't reduce the deer population.'

It will be interesting to see what County Council decides to do.

Will they hold a referendum?

Will they go ahead with a suggestion for an archery season...in light of Mr. Jones' comments that it would do no good in reducing the deer population?

Will they establish how many deer there are and are there so many that a hunt is needed?

Only time will tell.

Round Up

THE GRAPEVINE IS SHRINKING

At last! Bell Canada has started work in Picton for a $2 million project to improve the telephone service in the Picton exchange. Wellington was completed in 1977. It is expected the Picton area project will be finished in 1980.

When that happens, there will be no more than four people on any one line. Some phones now have ten subscribers on the line and many have eight.

The potential listeners-in will be cut by at least half, so it should take twice as long for the local gossip to spread.

HOUSE COMMITTEE

The Lennox and Addington Historical Society now owns the Macpherson House again. The Society is planning to operate the house through a central house committee by means of four sub-committees with particular responsibilities...property, financial, program and the Friends of the Laird.

The Society has also been busy drawing the attention of local groups to the fact that February 19 is Heritage Day. It has been suggested that organizations, clubs, stores, industries, churches, etc. do something to note how our heritage has contributed to Canada's growth as a nation.

CHILDREN'S SERVICES COMMITTEE

There were some people in Prince Edward County who were not too happy when Prince-Edward-Hastings was chosen as one of the four areas in Ontario to institute a pilot project to coordinate children's services. Some thought they had not been given enough chance for input.

They are getting another chance now to have some say in how the new system will be set up. A meeting was scheduled for today at the Four Seasons Hotel in Belleville, with Judge George Thomson, Associate Deputy Minister, Children's Services Division of the Ministry of Community and Social Services. On the agenda were: overview of Children's Services Division; reorganization of services, eastern region; history of the development of local children services committee and nomination of regional representatives for the local committee.

PICTON WOMAN HONOURED

Jeanne Minihinnick of Picton has been named a member of the Order of Canada in the annual Christmas list honouring distinguished Canadians, announced by Governor General Jules Leger.

A consultant on historical furnishings, she has worked on such projects as Upper Canada Village, Dundurn Castle in Hamilton and the Grange in Toronto.

SUMMER THEATRE

People in Prince Edward County and the neighbouring area are going to get a chance to learn to act this summer.

Joan Ferry, a Canadian playwright, is planning to hold four sessions of summer theatre workshops in Bloomfield, starting in May.

RABIES REPORTED

A case of rabies has been reported in Prince Edward County. A fox, shot by Gary Wilkinson near Waupoos was found to be rabid.

Mr. Wilkinson cut himself while skinning the fox so will undergo injections.

NAMED VICE-CHAIRMAN

An Ameliasburgh township councillor, Russell Thompson, has been named vice-chairman of the Hastings and Prince Edward Counties Board of Health. Chairman is Graham Mouck of Stirling.

REGIONAL CAUCUS

Frank Drea, Ontario's minister of Consumer and Commercial Relations, will be the guest speaker at an Eastern Ontario Regional Caucus of the Ontario Progressive Conservative Party in Napanee on Saturday, Jan. 27.

Energy Minister, James Auld, Caucus chairman, announced that at least five delegates from each of the seven ridings stretching from Brockville to Trenton and north to Bancroft will take part in the one-day session. The annual event is designed to let party members from Eastern Ontario express their concerns to Queen's Park.

Letters to the Editor

PRAISE FOR COACHES

Dear Editor:

Deseronto has a great Atom All-Star Team as proven by their up-to-date record. After winning each game the players are praised for their efforts but no credit is given the coaches.

The only time the coach gets any recognition is if the team loses, by some parents.

Does Deseronto have Big League Hockey? -NO.

Children at this age level must be given the opportunity to play. They will learn by their mistakes and they must not be considered as Big Leaguers.

I admit that Deseronto could have won against Ernestown but only if some players sat out most of the game. At this age level and during regular season plays this is not the proper approach.

The coaches' main goal, whether it be house league or All Star play should be to teach the game to the best of their ability.

But more important, the coach should have the proper attitude. Like all sports at this age level the emphasis should be on fun. The results will be that the players will play to the best of their ability and if not immediately but eventually become a winning team.

Parents are entitled to their comments but they should leave it at that. If they have a legitimate complaint they have the right to present it to the league officials in writing. In other words, parents should be spectators and never get involved unless absolutely necessary.

My hat is off to the Atom coaches - Tom McAlister and Jimmy Dobbin - for the good job they are doing.

They are treating all players equally by giving them an equal opportunity.

Although Deseronto lost the game to Ernestown, the most important fact was that everyone played.

Japanese girls well educated

'Many girls get a university degree,' she said. 'In Japan there is very good education. It's very strict and in high school, the students clean the floors and do other duties.'

She herself has a degree from the largest and best private university in Japan...in contemporary American authors. She also has a teaching certificate and, 'If I wanted to, I could be teaching in Japan,' she said, 'but teachers don't make much money.'

She was making $1,500 a month for a while, but not as a teacher. She was a secretary with an American company in Tokyo.

'You can make more as a graduate of such a good university as mine as a secretary, than an engineer who graduated from a fourth-rate university,' she pointed out.

Japanese companies, she said, pay less but they are paternalistic and workers feel that they are like a family. Productivity is high and there are seldom strikes. Everyone has enough to eat and the American company helps with housing...nursery schools for employees' children...and will even help an employee buy a home.

'The Japanese companies worry about your morality,' she said. 'They want to employ girls who stay with their families. If I don't live with my family, they don't know what I am doing. The family guarantees the girls go to work and it's more difficult for girls who live alone to find jobs.'

Although the unemployment rate in Japan is much lower than here...only 2%...it's much easier to find a husband than a job,' she said.

Despite the intense cold here last week, she likes Canada and would like to stay.

'Before I came here, I didn't imagine it so cold here,' she said. 'We have winter in Japan now and we have snow in Tokyo a couple of times in the winter, but not much, like here. Summers are very hot and humid.'

'Before I came to Canada, I asked the Canadian Embassy in Tokyo if it was possible to immigrate. Several years ago, it was possible but it is very different now. You need a speciality that Canadian people can't do.'

'If I had a sponsor, I think I could stay almost one year as a tourist.'

She would like to be able to stay and to teach in a Japanese school in Canada.

Does she get homesick when she's away from Tokyo?

'I never get homesick,' she said. 'I don't want to go back to Japan again.'

Deseronto arena in the black

Over the past four years of operation, the Deseronto and District Community Centre has ended up with a break-even position, financially.

A report given at Monday night's meeting of Town Council showed revenue exceeding expenses by $856.01 for the full year of 1978.

The report from the Recreation Committee also included action taken after considerable discussion requesting an Arena Booster Club. Committee passed a motion which was adopted by council, that the arena and the recreation department should not be directly involved in sponsoring, or promoting activities involving the sale of alcoholic beverages and any formation of such a club could only be done by private organizations through the rental of the hall facilities for that purpose.

Permission was given to arena manager Jack Layfield to submit an application for a Young Canada Works grant for the purpose of sealing and painting all bare block walls.

HAPPENINGS

Mrs. Jerry Caron and Mr. Reubin Pothier of Kingston returned home on Thursday after attending the funeral of their oldest brother, Alexander Pothier. Mr. Pothier leaves a wife and four children and a brother William of Yarmouth, Nova Scotia. This was Mrs. Caron's first visit to her home in 28 years.

Mrs. Kay Bignell has returned to her home in Newhaven, England, after spending a month with her uncle Albert Reed and cousins Kay Hood and Vi Barbier. She said she enjoyed our weather and had a glorious time, including a ski-doo ride. Her homecoming was delayed five hours when Gatwick Airport was fog-bound and they landed at Cardiff, Wales, taking off four hours later for Gatwick.

The Presbyterian Ladies Aid and WMS met on Jan. 16 at the home of Mrs. Dorothy McCullough. Mrs. Mabel Moore led in Prayer. Mrs. Dorothy Fresque and Mrs. Kay Hood were in charge of Mission Story and devotions. Treasurer's report showed the Bazaar was a great success.

The ladies decided to make Easter eggs again this year, also discussed holding a Fashion Show in the spring or early summer. Date was set for the annual Bazaar - December 1. The meeting closed with the Mizpah Benediction and refreshments were served.

Mr. and Mrs. Norway Maracle, Hill View Farm, recently returned home from visiting their daughter and son-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Ritchie, Vancouver, B.C. While there they were honoured at a Seniors' dinner at the Thunderbird Neighbourhood Centre for their 61st wedding anniversary and seats were reserved for them on the bus to tour the city.

Picton to get further MIG grant

Back in late November of 1975, the Federal Government introduced a Muncipentive Grant (MIG) Program Municipal Incentive Grant (MIG) Program designed to encourage both the development of medium-density housing of modest size and the economic use of land.

A federal grant of $1,000 was available to municipalities for each housing-unit satisfying size, density and value criteria. Funds were made available through Central Mortgage and Housing Corporation (CHMC).

The program has now been terminated, as of the end of 1978, but potentially eligible housing units, for which building permits had been issued in good faith up to December 31, 1978, will still be eligible for grants.

Picton has received a federal MIG grant of $18,000, for an 18-unit, newly-completed apartment building on Downes Avenue. The apartment building is privately owned, but the town got the grant for its encouragement of development.

And Picton expects to get a further $10,000 grant for another 18-unit building going up beside the completed one.

'We expect to get the further grant when the building is finished,' G. Lodge, Picton's town clerk-treasurer, told the Scanner.

When the notice of termination of the MIG program was discussed at the December meeting of Deseronto Council, Town clerk Carman Milligan reported that there were no building permits outstanding in Deseronto that were eligible for the grants.

Deseronto decides on assessment study

Deseronto Council has decided to go ahead with the first step which could lead to reassessment of all property in the town.

At Monday night's meeting, it was agreed that council should petition the Minister of Revenue to conduct a preliminary study with respect to a possible reassessment.

The study would not cost the town anything directly and would not commit it to any further action.

Without knowing it, you could be a turn-off.

Do you always take a bath, instead of a shower which uses less power?

Do you fill a kettle full to make a single cup? Turn on the washing machine for just a few things?

Leave the TV on when no one's watching?

And do you often forget to turn off the porch light even though everyone's home in bed?

Any of these thoughtless little habits can make you a turn-off. Because waste of electricity like anything that everybody really needs, can turn people off.

Wouldn't you rather turn off a light bulb than turn off a friend? Think about how you use electricity.

Wasting electricity turns people off.

Fire Chief proud of his volunteers

Ralph Lawlor, Deseronto's Fire Chief, is proud of his 16-man department...so proud of them, in fact, that he put a lot of time and trouble into getting them all on display, in a new framed picture on the wall of the firefighters' social quarters above the fire hall.

Framed under non-reflective glass are the 16 members of the department and colour pictures of the fire hall and fire-fighting equipment. Chief Lawlor took the pictures himself.

Three pieces of equipment are featured...a 1975 CMC tanker, a 1956 GMC pumper and a 1937 Maple Leaf pumper.

'The old pumper was sitting in the town barn, deteriorating,' Chief Lawlor said. 'It was brought over to the fire hall and restored. It's still workable and we take it to parades and other events.'

The fire hall also stores an 1800-gallon pumper belonging to Tyendinaga Township. The Deseronto department covers that part of the township up to the 9th concession.

During 1978, the department had 33 calls, eleven of them outside of the town.

'We had 22 fires in town and the loss was only approximately $40,000. That's a pretty good record,' he said.

There are some other small costs involved though...to the firemen themselves. 'Sometimes when a volunteer answers a call in a hurry, he doesn't get all covered up in his gear and his own clothes reek of smoke, which involves a dry-cleaning.'

The municipality provides the volunteers with their fire fighting clothes but they buy their own dress uniforms.

They run dances and bingos to raise money for charitable efforts, such as providing a Santa Claus to hand out candies to the youngsters at the Deseronto school.

When they're not busy fighting fires or occupied with their own work, they have a cozy place to meet, on the top floor of what used to be the town jail, but which now houses the fire fighting equipment. Darts are popular and there are tables for cards and comfortable couches for just relaxing and talking.

From the Town Pride

It is located at 300 Main Street. It's wide, low profile portrays strength and solidarity - it's clean, crisp lines appealing to the eye in their simplicity and lack of ostentation.

It is the new Lions Hall...a monument to the vision, dedication and good will of a small group of citizens known as the Deseronto Lions Club. It stands as a symbol of the attributes that characterize the true spirit of Lionism.

Ever considerate of the needs and wants of others, the Lions, while not forgetting aesthetic qualities, kept the functional aspects of the structure uppermost in their minds during the planning stage of the construction project. This careful consideration is reflected in the design of the building - no steps to deter the elderly, infirm or disabled. A wide ramp to facilitate the use of wheel chairs leads up to the double entrance doors. Interior installations, bathroom and kitchen fixtures were selected and positioned with the requirements of the physically handicapped in mind.

Constructed basically of cement blocks, what appears from a street level viewpoint to be a one storey building is actually two full storeys in height. Not being a club prone to overlook any opportunity that might present itself, the Lions took full advantage of the existing steep front to rear downgrade of their lot and came up with a building whose full lower level lends itself admirably to projected plans for a recreation/games room and/or workshop for arts and crafts. Ample storage space is available for equipment and paraphernalia used by the Lions in their many projects, in a room adjacent to the prospective games room.

COMMUNITY INVOLVEMENT

The theme of community involvement is also apparent in the landscaping of the property. The area behind and west of the building has been levelled to provide ample off street parking for patrons of the many activities participated in by the Lions.

Steps lead from the parking lot to the hall entrance through a rock garden designed to provide a background for photos of wedding parties or other groups who may wish to avail themselves of yet another facility provided by the considerate Lions.

Nor was the forethought manifest in the exterior of the building lacking in the planning of the interior.

As one enters the main hall he is struck by the pleasing mix of modern and traditional decor. The customary dark rear wall panelling blends into the light side walls and the low, strictly functional ceiling incorporates sophisticated sound, lighting and air filtering systems.

The kitchen, with its triple sinks, spacious cupboard, range, refrigerator and table top level island in the centre of the work space would turn the head of the most discriminating housewife.

Strategically located at the right of the entrance, the cloak room offers easy access to visitors and the same may be said of the bar occupying corresponding space on the left. Modern as tomorrow, washrooms at the rear of the hall offer the latest innovations in aid of the handicapped.

Now fully operational, the hall features Bingo every Thursday night, Lions meetings on the second and fourth Wednesday of each month and is used on a regular cost free basis by Senior Citizens, Girl Guides, Boy Scouts, church and other service oriented groups. For rent as a source of revenue in aid of Lions' humanitarian endeavours, the hall accommodates parties of up to 120 persons.

Product of the utilization of the diversified talents, expertise, skills and just plain hard labour of its members, the new hall is a source of justifiable pride for the Lions Club. So if your group is planning a meeting, convention or party, why not help the Lions help others by taking advantage of the availability of this, their latest service project.

1979 International
Year of the Child

The United Nations has proclaimed 1979 as International Year of the Child in order to focus attention on children everywhere.

In Ontario, the Government has always looked at children as our most precious resource and has worked to provide them with the best possible health, education and social programs.

In 1979, we intend to strengthen these services and programs in the belief that the peace and prosperity of the future depends on the well-being of our children today.

However, the Year of the Child to be truly successful in Ontario, must have everyone's support... your support.

Only you, as a parent or friend, can provide the love and concern that is so essential to the healthy development of a child.

For more information on the Ontario Government's programs for our children, and a list of suggestions of what you, your organization or community can do

TODAY'S ADOPTEE—this is James. He thinks he's got it pretty easy, sitting on a cushion in the rocking chair—but he's about to be booted out. Not because of his behaviour, he's a gentleman, but because the 'foster home' already has three other cats in it. James has had a lot of changes in his short life and has adapted well. Born in a woodpile, to a vagabond mother, he was fed by a kind neighbour and his first home was found for him, but the people had to move and he couldn't go with them. Temporary quarters were found, but again, the landlady went away and left him with still another family, and he can't stay there too long. Anyone wanting to adopt James can call the Scanner, 396-3431.

Deseronto industry exporting buses

A few weeks ago, the Scanner reported how the lower dollar value was helping increase exports from a local company...Canada Optical...which is already selling frames for glasses in England, United States, West Indies, Holland and New Zealand.

'With the Canadian dollar down, we are competitive in foreign markets,' John Hermant, marketing manager, said.

Now another Deseronto industry is also reporting that it has started producing for foreign markets, where the falling dollar has made its products more competitive...it's Superior Deseronto Division of Shellar Globe of Canada, Ltd.

'We have just had orders for 25 buses to go to Manila,' general manager Rod

Armstrong said. 'This is a first for us.'

The buses will be sent in crates... 'knocked down'...for assembly in Manila.

While it is the first order for the plant from Manila, it is not the first overseas order for the Deseronto Division.

Recently, a contract was awarded to the plant by the parent company for 100 buses for shipment to the Middle East, for Mohamed Ali Maghrabi and Sons of Saudi Arabia. Present plans are to produce four units a day.

These will be the largest buses manufactured at the plant to date. They will be about 27 inches longer than the conventional school buses manufactured at the plant. Last year, the plant produced 800 of the school buses.

Two 'would be' journalists visited the Scanner last week to find out how a newspaper is put together. Twice a year, students at the Tyendinaga Public School, Shannville, have to do a home economics and an industrial arts elective program. Michele Shiers and Janice Kimmerly host a journalism project. They will be spending four afternoons a week with Jan Littlehales, editor of the Tyendinaga Tatler. In the above photo they are looking at some printed material which has just come off the Scanner press. With them, on the right, is Ms. Littlehales.

Ministry of Education will ignore commission's report—little change in religious education regulations

There are going to be a fair number of school boards across the Province which will be 'caught out on a limb' by a new regulation from the Ontario Government concerning religious education in the schools.

Legislation, regulating teaching of religion in the public schools, was brought into Ontario back in 1944, and has caused a lot of controversy ever since.

There was so much controversy, in fact, that in 1966 the Ontario Government established the Mackay Commission on religious education in the public schools.

It took the commission until 1969 to come up with its report and recommendations...12 of them...including a recommendation that 'the present course of study in religious education in the elementary schools of Ontario be discontinued and that its aims as set out in related legislation, programs of studies, regulations, and guide books, be abandoned'.

Another recommendation suggested that the 'high duty of public education to foster character building be discharged through a clearly understood, continuously pursued, universal program pervading every curricular and extra-curricular activity in the public school system from the beginning of elementary to the close of secondary education. This program, which is to be distinguished from a course of study, should be carefully planned and administered incidentally throughout the whole school spectrum. It will have as its focus character building, ethics, social attitudes and moral values and principles'.

It now appears that the Ontario Government has decided to ignore the recommendations of its own commission.

A new regulation (704) which has just been received by school boards is virtually unchanged from the old regulation which has existed since 1944.

Many Ontario schools have not been following the old regulations, in expectation that the new regulations would implement the recommendations of the Mackay report and discontinue the program. Hastings County was one of them.

'It is fair to say that in recent years throughout the Province most boards of education have not been following the regulations,' B.W. Mather, Hastings director of education, reported to the board at its January meeting.

Implementing the regulations is going to pose problems for many school boards.

Regulation 704 requires the opening or closing of each school day with religious exercises, consisting of the reading of the Scriptures or other suitable readings and the repeating of the Lord's Prayer or other suitable prayers. This will not cause too much disruption in school timetables...many of them are already doing this.

But the further requirement that two periods per week of one-half hour each shall be devoted to religious education will upset present timetables. The two half-hour periods must be given immediately after the opening of school

Will he see his shadow on Friday ???

Don't hope for an early spring, no matter what

When old man groundhog sticks his nose out of his cozy burrow to take a look around on February 2, he's likely to stick it right into a deep freeze, whether the sun is shining or not.

Everyone's familiar with the old tale that, if the groundhog sees his shadow on February 2, he'll go right back underground, forecasting another six weeks of winter...if it's cloudy, he'll stay active, predicting an early spring.

According to Chase's Almanac, which has been pretty accurate over the years, this part of Canada is going to have winter for a long time yet. The Almanac even predicts a snowstorm on April 24!

Some other predictions from the same source:

February...There'll be snow and sleet much of the month.

March...An early spring seems assured as the month begins with clear skies, thermometers climbing, but, by the 12th, there's wet snow and temperatures slide down.

April...A bleak, cold, damp two weeks at the outset. A light late snowfall on the 24th. The only relief is seen on the 28th, when temperatures rise slightly, offering a glimpse of what spring could be like.

So there you have it, folks. Better stoke up the woodpile and keep the shovel handy.

'End of the beginning' COMSOC director

'I think this is the end of the beginning,' Gerry Duda of the Ontario Ministry of Community and Social Services (COMSOC) in Belleville commented on the confirmation of support given by Prince Edward County Council, last week, to the pilot project in Prince Edward-Hastings for co-ordinating children's services.

'Now that we have the approval, we can do the job,' he told the Scanner.

Back in August, Prince Edward-Hastings was chosen as one of four areas in Ontario to set up a pilot project to co-ordinate services for children in the two counties.

'The only objections we had were from the Children's Aid Society in Prince Edward,' Mr. Duda said. 'All the other areas in the two counties were in favour of the project.'

Stretched out my foot in bed the other night and come near to having my toes bit off. Seems Elma had took her teeth out in her sleep and lost 'em in the bed. Seems to me, there ain't nothing like false teeth for causing folks trouble. I heard enough stories to write a book.

There's a feller as lives out Bloomfield way as loses his teeth regular, specially on Friday nights. Couple of weeks back him and his missus had to do a tour of all the local legions, and their car parks, looking for his choppers. Spent nearly all day Saturday on the job, searched high and low. Guess where they turned up - behind the seat of the car! His missus were some mad I can tell you.

Then there was the couple what went to see that Star Wars movie. Seems they don't go out too often, but they took their young 'un to see it special. Anyways, right in the middle of one of them exciting bits, she felt him grabbing for her hand. Now since he ain't the exactly the passionate type no more, and anyways it'd been years since he held her hand in the movies, she got a proper thrill. Till she reached out her hand that was. All he was doing was passing her his false teeth to put in her purse. That were a real damper on her spot of romance I can tell you.

Then there were the woman what was sure she'd lost her teeth down the drain. In the middle of January it were. So nothing would do but her old man and all his friends had to dig up the freezing ground, uncover the septic tank and sift out all the stuff to find her gnashers. Took them the best part of the day, and she were so busy supervising that she were late getting on with her chores, so it weren't until they were right at the bottom of the tank that she went to make the bed, and found her teeth down at the bottom. Wouldn't it be liked to be in her shoes that night. Specially as what with the cold and all, the men hadn't been to careful where they dumped the stuff, and the well got polluted. Had sewer water coming out of the tap for weeks.

So all in all, you can see what I mean when I says that I figgers life might be simpler if we all got to be gummers. Only think that way out of apple season mind you.

EDITORIAL

The Christmas bills are pouring in. The money's pouring out. A lot of it is going down the oil tank's greedy spout.

It's time to pay more hard-earned cash for the sticker for the car. And gasoline has upped again. A buck won't get you far.

The insurance is due. The phone bill too. A man just read the metre To charge me for the P.U.C....Turn off those lights!...That heater!

So sing a song of January. Be glad it's almost done. Because, before you know it, friends, next month will have begun.

But February's shorter, so those dreadful month-end bills Will come a little quicker....Get out the headache pills.

The winter will hang on....and on. March won't bring any ease. But then....oh then....it's April! And springtime, if you please.

P.S. Don't look for too much then For April's income tax again!

Quinte News Round Up

DING, DONG BELL...PLEASE SHUT UP!

The carillon in Belleville's City Hall is giving some residents the jitters with its incessant clanging of the same old tunes.

It was installed as part of the city's centennial celebrations last year and has a very limited repertoire. Even if the music is good...you can have too much of a good thing.

It's been suggested that someone donate a new tape.

MORE POST OFFICE BLUES

Yo u would have thought the post office had done just about all it could to the people in Picton and elsewhere ... what with threatened strikes, slow deliveries and increased cost of stamps.

But Pictonites have had an additional beef...they can hardly get to their post office to collect their mail these days...layers of ice and snow on the sidewalks and steps make them non-negotiable for any but the young and nimble.

Maybe it's a plot on the part of the Federal Government to keep the unemployed away from the Canada Manpower office which is in the same building.

'NEW BROOM' MAKES CHANGES

Bruce Mather, education director for Hastings County School Board, was requested, when he was hired, to make initial observations about the county system...and he did so at last meeting of the board.

He recommended, and the board accepted, the establishment of special education as a priority and the moving of an additional superintendent into the field of supervising instruction.

There is a clear need for minor reorganizations of the administrative structure on the academic side, he told the board.

SOME HAVE SPECIAL NEEDS

Two special needs classes are going to be set up by Prince Edward County students...one for seniors at Sophiasburg Central School, and one for juniors at Queen Elizabeth School in Picton.

Children throughout the county who are behaviourally and socially maladjusted will have an opportunity to get special help towards integration into the regular program.

PARKETTE PROJECT STILL ALIVE

A parkette project which would cost about $30,000, as part of a larger market square renovation in Napanee, was up for discussion again at the meeting of the town's property committee.

One objection to the project had been that it would remove 25 badly-needed parking spaces in the centre of town, but committee recommended the concept of the parkette.

SKIING WEEKEND

During the first weekend in February, students from Picton's Prince Edward Collegiate Ski Club will be skiing at Mount Tremblant.

Permission was given by the county board of education. This will be the third year such an activity has been undertaken.

HORSE SHOW QUEEN

Terri Lynne Bird, 15, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Warren Bird, was chosen Western Queen at the Lennox and Addington County Riders annual banquet.

Contestants were awarded points on showmanship and riding ability.

Runners-up were Joanne Ladislaus and Valerie Garrison. All three winners were from Napanee and are students at the Napanee District Secondary School.

'Happy Birthday' was sung to Jennie McQueen and Pearl McEwen whose birthdays were in January. Arrangements were made to hold a euchre party on February 5 in the Lions Club Hall.

Joe Reynolds announced that a donation of $500 will be given to the Lions Club towards the completion of the basement rooms.

LIBRARY NOTES

Deseronto Library has acquired a complete set of the Encyclopedia of Discovery and Exploration through Regional library.

This is a wonderful reference tool dealing with ancient and modern exploration all over the globe. Full-colour plates make it a delight for leisure browsing too.

For the children of public school age, the library has all kinds of new fiction. There are 'The Witch's Daughter', 'Devil by the Sea' and 'Rebel and Tock' by Nina Bawden. There are two new ones by Arthur Ransome and many others.

Check the lobby for the 1979 Fishing Regulations. They are pinned up just inside the door.

The library is now taking 'Outdoor Canada' magazine. There are articles on all sorts of sports and photography etc. in each issue.

Please note, senior citizens, that there will be a film show at the Lions Club Hall at 1:30 p.m. on Friday, Feb. 9. Come and enjoy yourselves.

Religious education rules almost identical to 1944

or immediately before closing.

Another matter of concern voiced by Mr. Mather is that the Ministry has supplied no curriculum...no revised guidelines...no resource materials to assist teachers in implementing the requirements...that there is no specific teacher training in the teaching of religious education at teacher training institutes.

'In our opinion, it is unrealistic for the Ministry to legislate a mandatory program without also providing support. Since no Ministry guidelines and support materials are available, and since no textbooks on religious education are approved in Circular 14, the Ministry appears to be expecting local school boards to accept the full responsibility for implementing the requirements of Regulation 704,' Mr. Mather reported. 'Any significant local curriculum development in this area will stretch our limited resources even further and will reduce efforts from implementing other Ministry Guidelines.'

A school board may get exemption from the teaching of religious education but, rather than taking this step to handle the current problem, the Hastings Board has decided to seek temporary exemption from the full requirements of the regulation, pending receipt of guidelines and resource material from the Ministry.

They also decided to communicate to the Ministry, in the strongest possible manner, their concerns regarding the successful implementation of the religious education programs.

Prince Edward County School Board is in a somewhat different position, the public schools are already carrying out some kind of religious education programs.

Shirley Goertzen teaches the program in North Marysburg, Pinecrest, Queen Elizabeth, Sophiasburg, Wellington and the Happy Hours school. Local ministers conduct the religious education in Kente Public School, Massasauga, Athol and South Marysburg.

HAPPENINGS

The Presbyterian Church of the Redeemer held their Annual Meeting on Friday evening at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Gerry Loney. According to all reports, the church has had a very good year. It was decided to have the church service at 1:30 p.m. on Sundays for the months of February and March, with Sunday School at 10:30 a.m. Following the meeting, a delicious lunch was served by the hostess.

Glad to hear Mrs. Beryl Herman is home from Kingston General Hospital, where she underwent surgery.

Children's Services group set up

In fact, there was so much opposition from the Prince Edward Children's Aid Society that last year, Ben Prinzen, who was then County Council's representative on the CAS board, resigned that position with the board.

Mr. Prinzen is now warden of the county and he and two major county council committees - social services, and finance and personnel - had given their support to the project before it was approved at last week's council meeting.

'County Council had to pass a by-law to ratify, or confirm, previous support,' Mr. Duda said. 'They made a few amendments to the by-law which we will look at.'

Hastings wants wood fired generator built

The Centre Hastings Organization for Resource Development, a citizens' group, has been formed to promote development in the townships of Rawdon, Marmora and Lake, Madoc, Tudor, Huntingdon, Hungerford, Elzevir and Grimsthorpe and the villages of Marmora, Madoc, Deloro and Tweed. This is one of the highest areas of unemployment in Hastings County.

The first proposal from CHORD is a wood-fired generating station to produce the electricity required for the Centre Hastings area.

CHORD is holding a public meeting on January 31, at 8 p.m. in the Marmora Town Hall. Purpose of the meeting is to explain the wood-fired project and the research to date.

The group expects to receive an indication of the public feeling and support for this project.

'We knew the by-law had passed committee and that the warden and the two committees supported it. Now that it has been approved, we have to do the job.'

Last Wednesday, an open meeting was held in Belleville to set up a children's services committee and to name representatives to that committee.

About 125 were there. Anyone could attend and they came from CAS boards, school boards, day nurseries, group homes and other interested groups of citizens.

In addition to official representatives appointed to the committee by municipalities, the 'general public' at the meeting were also allowed to have a say in representation. They were divided up into several small groups, each of which named two representatives to serve on the committee.
